CHAIRMAN'S CHATTER

Robert Schmeichel

T'well here we are. We've certainly been through a lot recently. One cannot pick up a newspaper or watch the evening news broadcast on TV or even listen to sportscasters without getting inundated with talk about Covid-19. "They say" it's the new normal. And although this is not the place for editorial rant of any kind, I would offer that these are "abnormal times" and we all need to be diligent, be safe and stay healthy so we can get back to a sense of normality. Let's talk "Positivity".

Thank You...Thank You, very much for all who have stepped up and contributed to our new, Town of Neenah's Fire Department pickup truck. This vehicle will definitely aid our volunteer firefighters in facilitating quick response times to emergency calls of all types. Should anyone still like to contribute any amount of monies toward this fund-raising effort, you may do so at the Town Hall.

Speaking of funds. As we once again approach the annual budget deliberations I have fielded that perennial question of "When are you going to fix Larsen Road"? Well...given that the Neenah Joint School District is going to build a new high school facility out "thada way", we are looking at what possibilities we may have to help us in improving the road. First, we will ask NJSD what they can do to aid our Larsen Road reconstruction budget considerations. An Initial Development Review traffic study conducted by an independent traffic group indicates an increased percent of traffic traveling Oakridge Road and Larsen Road to and from the school. These assumptions will be carried forward into the final Traffic Impact Analysis. We are also looking into the possibilities of funds from a Transportation Improvement Program as projected by East Central Regional Planning. We will have to be patient and let this process take place. Hopefully (fingers crossed) in our favor.

Two successful town projects have reached completion. First the construction of the new park shelter at Franzoi Park is finished for a project cost of $301,000 which included a private donation of $35,000 toward the cost. Please respectfully enjoy the use of this new facility and half-court basketball court. These both will provide recreation for years to come. Second, the new Town of Neenah Stormwater Pond adjacent to County Road "O" has been completed. The project cost was approximately $1.9 million dollars. This new stormwater pond will service the State of Wisconsin DNR requirements in that location for both the Town of Neenah and Winnebago County. Job well done.

Our next major project to be completed this year is the replacement of the roof on the Town Hall. We have been battling maintenance issues with our present roof conditions for a number of years. After trying to navigate through several roofing contractors presentations the Town Board decided that we needed design specification documents that requested all of the contractors submit bids on a credited solution to our roof problems. The design firm of Hoffman Planning, Design & Construction, Inc. was hired to complete the design and specification bid package. That bid process has been completed with the final contract amount of $123,965. This reroofing project will be completed yet this year.

And now...Ta-daa... My Fun Facts :

If you haven't had a chance to walk our Conservancy Park at the corner of County Truck "A" and South Park Avenue, please do. Here you have a park of different types of native plants that show us their beauty year round. So with that thought, did you know, that the two most common wildflowers (herbaceous native plants with showy flowers) are Black-eyed Susan (Rudbeckia hirta) and Common sunflower (Helianthus

ROADS AND STORM WATER

Record Rainfall and Road Ditches

The Town of Neenah has been receiving record rainfall for the last several years, as many of you are well aware. The National Weather Service records show Appleton had the wettest year on record in 2019 with 49.03 inches of total precipitation. As a farmer, I can relate to this, as we never got any crops planted in 2019. Not only that, but 7 of the wettest years in history have occurred in the last 10 years! As these wet years continue, our subsoil is becoming more and more saturated. Our town is very low and flat. On top of that, we have a lot of heavy clay soils. All of this adds up to the fact that we have a lot of drainage issues in the Town of Neenah.

On July 9th of this year, we had 4 inches of rain. We had water going over roads in several areas and a lot of low area flooding. Drainage ditches and road ditches were running full. Many residences in the town have 2 or 3 sump pumps, and they were all running steady! In many cases, this water is discharged into the Town road ditch. Town road ditches were designed to: 1) Drain water off the road, 2) Drain water from adjoining property, 3) Carry that water to its destination. In the past, the Town mowed the road ditches once or twice a year. In today's world, most homeowners mow the Town road ditch, along with the rest of their lawn. Herein lies the problem. Ditches can't be sloped perfectly, and as sump pumps continue to run, there may be standing water in low spots. When the Town mowed the ditch, the grass was taller, and no one noticed. There may be certain times of the year, and after heavy rainfall, when you can't mow in the bottom of the ditch. This is normal. If you have large, persistent standing water in the Town road ditch in front of your property, please call the Town office, and I will come look at it. Town of Neenah ordinance prohibits you from doing any alterations to the town road ditch. This includes doing anything to alter the width or depth, planting any trees or shrubs, as well as doing any major landscaping in the Town road ditch. Here's hoping that 2020 is not another record year for rainfall!

SUPERVISOR'S SPOTLIGHT

Greetings!

I hope you are finding ways to enjoy the summer in these challenging times. Your Town Chairman, Board of Supervisors and the Town Clerk-Treasurer have been in the process of reviewing our Town Ordinances. While many will remain unchanged, some need revisions and updates.

When reviewing the Ordinances, a major concern is to fairly structure our ordinances to deal with residents' complaints. A majority of our complaints can be referenced as "one man's treasures is another man's junk". In other words, the collection and storage of items one thinks will be used or refurbished at a later date. Many times these things are older vehicles. The present Ordinance requires that stored vehicles must have a current registration and be licensed. Other complaints involve the many items being stored in yards. Please consider your neighbors when storing items. Maybe just a walk by or view from your neighbor's side of the yard or street would give you an understanding of why they may object to the types and numbers of items being stored on the property.

The Town recently went through a lengthy and costly circuit court proceeding resulting in an expensive cleanup of a property on Dixie Road. The direct cost of this cleanup will be the property owner's expense but the Town incurs expenses such as legal fees and administrative fees as well as the amount of time invested in the process. We continue to work with other problem properties to resolve issues.

Later this year, the Town will be joining the Village of Winneconne Municipal Court. Violations and noncompliance of our Ordinances will be directed to this court. The Town Chairman, Board Members, Fire Chief and Building Inspector may issue a citation for violations.

The Town will more aggressively encourage compliance with Town Ordinances. It is our hope we can work with our residents and resolve issues before citations are required.

In reviewing our Ordinances, the goal of the Town of Neenah is to keep our neighborhoods clean and a place we can all be proud to call home.

Conservancy Park – A Prairie to Preserve

Over the last several months, many people have commented on how pretty the flowers are at Conservancy Park, what a great location for a family photoshoot and the park has even been referred to as a “hidden gem” in the Town of Neenah. Besides being a beautiful backdrop, the park and the plants that are in it serve an important role in our environment.

Butterfly Weed

Due to the rich soils created by prairie plants, over 99% of tall grass prairies have been destroyed or turned into cropland. Without prairie plants, invading trees and shrubs gradually turn grasslands into woodlands. Through a Stewardship Grant from the Wisconsin Department of Resources, the Town of Neenah created the prairie area to preserve a grassland ecosystem.

Conservancy Park is both a “Wet Mesic Prairie” and “Mesic Prairie.” Plants in both kinds of prairies hold in moisture and have buds at or below the surface of the soil to create a lot of root mass below the ground. Every 2–3 years, in the spring, a controlled burn takes place at the park to restore the health of the soil, recycle nutrients and remove non-native vegetation to allow prairie plants to grow. The deep roots of the prairie plants help them to survive the fire and grow back stronger.

“Wet Mesic Prairie” tall grasses include Cordgrass, Big Bluestem, and Canada Wild-Rye. Wet prairie plants include Azure Aster, Coneflower, Prairie Docks, and Culver’s Root. The environment for plants to grow in a wet prairie includes a lot of water, deep clay silt loam, peat soil, and poor drainage.

The “Mesic Prairie” or tallgrass prairie provides plants rich, moist, and well-drained soil. Several mesic prairie plants include Bee-Balm, Coneflower, Spiderwort, and Butterfly Weed. As many of you may have seen, flowers in the mesic prairie reach 4–6 feet tall by the end of summer.

There are over 46 different “Mesic” and “Wet Mesic Prairie” plants in Conservancy Park. The education plot found at the entrance of the park has many of the plants labeled to help identify the flowers throughout the park. If you didn’t get a chance to see the park in full bloom this summer, don’t worry...the prairie plants will be back again, year after year!

annuus). Both occur all across America and in many places occur in vast numbers, and both are in bloom right now at the park. In most cultures around the world, the wildflower represents joy. These are obviously the wildflowers that have a lot of color and "jump" off the skin more than others. Someone who gets a wildflower tattoo may either want joy in their lives or he/she is a positive person.

Also did you know that;

The earth has more than 80,000 species of edible plants. ... 90 percent of the foods humans eat come from just 30 plants. ... 70,000 plant species are utilized for medicine. ... (Hmmm maybe we have a solution/cure for Covid-19 right under our nose)

ANNEXATION BASICS

Recently, the Town of Neenah has lost territories to both the City of Neenah and Village of Fox Crossing through annexation. This has generated concerns from neighboring properties that they might be next and raised questions about what the Town is doing to stop this from happening. The issue of protecting the Town of Neenah borders has been a priority for the Town Board for many years.

Towns attempt to protect their borders through Boundary Agreements/Intergovernmental Agreements with neighboring municipalities or Incorporation into a village or city.

Annexation laws set forth by the State of Wisconsin tend to favor cities and villages, giving them the right to annex lands into their incorporated boundaries as long as several conditions are met. Typically, a property owner desires the services provided by the neighboring city or village, including sewer, water, police, fire, and rescue resulting in the annexation request.

Two of the most common ways properties are annexed are through “Direct Annexation by Unanimous Petition” or “Direct Annexation by 1/2 Approval”. In the Direct Annexation by Unanimous Petition option, the property owner(s) specifically request that their land be annexed to the city or village. This was the case in the recent annexation of 225 acres for the Neenah Joint School District to the Village of Fox Crossing. The property owners involved completed the necessary documentation and requested to be annexed into the Village. The other method of Direct Annexation by 1/2 Approval requires that one-half of all electors and property owners approve the annexation. There are several steps required, one step includes notification to all impacted property owners. As a result, annexation will not occur without prior knowledge and opportunity for input from the impacted property owners. Although a town has legal recourse to challenge an annexation, when all legal requirements are met, it is extremely difficult for a town to successfully block an annexation request.

Annexations often drive neighboring municipalities to form a boundary agreement. Boundary/Intergovernmental agreements can be a valuable tool to avoid legal conflicts over annexation and incorporation, enabling communities to proactively develop solutions to benefit the area as a whole and move both communities toward their desired future vision and goals. Many years ago, the numerous annexations to the City of Neenah created the need for the two communities to form a Boundary Agreement, which was signed in 2003 for a term of 30 years. The agreement includes areas that the Town and City both agreed would be annexed to the City when developed (City Growth) and other areas that would stay in the Town of Neenah when developed (Town Growth). There are three properties along Breezewood Lane which were recently annexed to the City of Neenah. These three property owners agreed many years ago when they received municipal services from the City that they would annex after a certain number of years. The grace period has expired, and the three properties were annexed to the City per their agreement. The Boundary Agreement, in its entirety, is available on the Town website.

Officials from the Town of Neenah and Village of Fox Crossing have had discussions regarding a boundary agreement but have been unable to reach an agreement. Officials from the Town of Neenah and Town of Clayton are working toward an Intergovernmental Agreement that would go into effect upon the Town of Clayton’s incorporation, which states that Clayton’s newly incorporated village would not annex any Town of Neenah territories for 20 years.

A second way a town might protect its borders is through incorporation. Several neighboring towns have either completed or are in the process of doing so, including the Town of Menasha, which is now Village of Fox Crossing, and Towns of Greenville and Clayton. Many people ask if the Town of Neenah should incorporate. The process to incorporate is governed by State Statute with involvement by the Circuit Court and Incorporation Review Board. Wis Stat 66.02 In summary, the Incorporation Review Board looks at several factors, including a homogeneous and compact community, including an identifiable “community center,” tax revenue, level of services, impact on the remainder of the town and impact on the metropolitan community. The Town would have to meet certain density levels and define a community center as well as prove the level of services related to sewer, water, police, fire, and rescue are sufficient. At this time, The Town does not meet these requirements.

The laws governing annexation and incorporation of municipal boundaries are complex. For further study, you can refer to Wisconsin State Statutes and Wisconsin Department of Administration as a starting point for further research.

Site Security Improvement Committee

The Town of Neenah Board of Supervisors constructed an ad hoc committee to review and assess the Town Hall's security needs. This will ensure a smooth election process, proper emergency policies and procedures, and ensure a safe environment at the Town Hall.

data, and business property income and expense. Today's real estate market is a seller's market, with demand exceeding the supply, property values are on the rise. There has been rapid appreciation in property values; however, not all properties appreciate at the same rate. This revaluation establishes equitable and uniform values for all properties in the Town of Neenah as of January 1, 2020.

The increase in property assessment does not mean that your property taxes will increase by the same percentage. When property values increase, tax rates decrease because there is more value to tax to raise the money needed to pay for government services. Taxes are tied directly to the amount of money that the municipality needs to collect. The total tax levy includes funding to operate the State, County, Town, and School Districts including the Technical College. The tax levy cannot be calculated until all taxing authorities have finalized and adopted their budget, typically by late November. Please review your new assessment carefully.
